PRESENTATION SHARING ON THE WEB - TODAY

You can use tools like slideshare and prezi to share presentations on the web

BUT

- ... the creator can not sell it and transfer ownership
- ... nor can the creator get rewards for publishing or posting
- ... you have to trust a 3rd party to hold your data and are bound to the respective platform
- ... you do not know where exactly the presentations are stored
- ... there is no guarantee content will stay forever and there might be downtimes
- ... presentations cannot be used in any third party application or Dapp instantly
- ... platforms do limit user engagement or feedback

DECENTSLIDES SOLVES PROBLEM BY DECENTRALIZING PRESENTATIONS

Decentslides offers plugins for usual presentation apps, like powerpoint or google slides to almost instantly convert your slides to an NFT.

OPEN DECENTSLIDES POWERPOINT PLUGIN

The image shows the Microsoft PowerPoint interface with the DecentSlides plugin installed. The ribbon at the top includes tabs for File, Home, Insert, Draw, Design, Transitions, Animations, Slide Show, Review, View, and Help. The Home tab is active, showing options for Clipboard, Slides, Font, Paragraph, Drawing, Editing, Voice, Sensitivity, Designer, and Commands Group. The main slide area displays a text box with the text "Double tap to add title". A purple callout bubble points to the "Publish as NFT" button in the DecentSlides sidebar. The sidebar also includes a "GetFile" link.
